*Google Classroom joins HRS! You may have noticed that grades 4-8 have begun piloting a new platform for blending instruction and technology. Google Classroom has become an integral part of schools looking to advance instruction and increase opportunities for learning. We have begun testing the waters with this valuable tool and will pilot it through the remainder of the year. Our goal is for our students to benefit from the integration of technology and instruction to provide the most up to date learning experience, laying the foundation for future success in high school and beyond.

*"Google Goggles" Arrive! These goggles allow our students to take virtual tours of places we normally only reference in our textbooks. A recent grant has provided HRS with 40 VR goggles for use as part of our curriculum so students can "make a virtual visit" of locations currently being studied in class. So far the goggles have been used as part of Science classes in grades 4/5/6 with excellent results
